

Musanze Employment Service Centre

Information for Employers

Our vision is to be a centre of excellence that satisfies the needs of employers and job seekers.

About us

Musanze Employment Service Centre (MESC) was established in collaboration between the Ministry of Public Service and Labour and Musanze District. It was launched officially in December 2016.

Our clients are both employers and jobseekers. Currently over 1,300 job seekers with different educational backgrounds are registered at MESC. That makes us confident in saying that we will find the right candidate for your company.

What is special about MESC? In line with our vision it is our duty to prepare selected candidates very well before starting a job. Together with the job seeker, we carefully analyse their profiles and explore job opportunities. We strengthen their communication and work readiness skills through individual coaching, organising specific trainings and arranging internships. We know who we recommend.

MESC is located in the heart of Musanze City, jointly with the Youth Empowerment for Global Opportunities Centre (YEGO) and close to the Business Development Funds Musanze Branch.

Why choose us?

Finding the right candidate for a position in your company can cost a lot of time and money. With MESC you have a strong partner who helps you through this process.

Services we provide:

- Free recruitment services upon request.
- Collect information about local skills needs from the employer's perspective and contribute to minimizing mismatching.
- Provide guidance to employers on the labour market.
- Improve employability through knowledge of and access to the local workforce opportunities.
- Develop on-going relationships with employers that hire.
- Work with career advisory offices.

Our applicants are ready to work. We make sure they have

- a realistic understanding of their skills and strengths;
- good communication skills; and
- are well prepared to start working.

What clients say about us?

“We have continually been taking the services of MESC to receive suitable candidates in our clinic and recently signed an MoU with the centre and our collaboration is growing. We are very satisfied with applicants who have applied through the centre. They are well prepared and committed to the job. We had our first intern Aline in May 2017 for six months who was very well prepared by the centre. She demonstrated strong skills that were an asset for our company. She is now our employee. We now have a second intern, Zita, through MESC.”
Dr. Eugene Rutayombya / Managing Director, Clinique Mpore Liberté

“As soon as I finished my study at ULK in accounting, I approached MESC. Two months after registering, I landed an internship opportunity with the Clinique Mpore Liberté, which ended up with an employment contract. This has made me an independent woman.

MESC provided me trainings on entrepreneurship and job search and supported me throughout the recruitment process by teaching me how to apply, how to write an application letter and how to behave during interviews. I encourage the youths to visit the centre.”
Aline Umutoni / Cashier, Clinique Mpore Liberté

“Hiring employees in the hospitality sector is competitive and challenging. There are very few employees and many people seeking jobs. Often we receive people who lack career direction, qualifications or are not ready to handle the position.

What MESC is doing is commendable, preparing young people with no experience to acquire the skill-sets that are required in various jobs. From an employer's point of view, the services that MESC offers is very helpful, for example, pre-screening saves me a lot of time. Hence I can consider working with MESC.”
Fabrice Kwizera / Managing Director, Best View Hotel.

“It was difficult finding a job after I finished my education in 2014, until I joined the MESC. The centre was very supportive, providing various trainings on ICT, inter-personal skills, English language, preparing CVs and applying online. I did not know about customer care or good service delivery, but now I am well equipped and confidently putting it into practice everyday.”
Umurerwa Yvonne / Intern, Best View Hotel
